An Australian Government Initiative

Improve your existing workers skills and knowledge and reap the rewards

To ensure Australia has the necessary skills and knowledge to meet the country's evolving employment needs, the Australian Government is encouraging employers to place both their new and existing employees into funded Australian Apprenticeship and Traineeship qualifications.

Benefits of upskilling your existing staff include:

- ◆ Improved motivation, loyalty, productivity and service quality.
- ◆ Ensures your employees' skills remain up-to-date and relevant to your business needs.
- ◆ Staff receive a combination of practical hands-on and theoretical based training, meeting all learning needs.
- ◆ Gives you the opportunity to choose the training provider, as well as have input into how, where and when the training is delivered.
- ◆ Provides you with a choice of over 600 qualifications, suiting all your skills requirements.

So what is an existing worker?

An existing worker is an employee who has been employed for more than 3 months full-time or 12 months part-time or on a casual basis.

Australian Government eligibility for incentives

In order to attract Australian Government incentives for your existing employee, your employee must be undertaking an Australian Apprenticeship or Traineeship qualification at Certificate Level III or IV, which has a nominal duration of 24 months or more.

BUSY AT WORK Apprenticeships Services can work with you and your training provider to ensure you maximise your existing worker training outcomes.
